

Opportunity for Local Students to Meet Nationally Recognized News Journalist

The Bristol Public Library is bringing back the Worldview Scholarship Series. The series brings prominent national figures to Bristol. This year the series will feature news journalist Mika Brzezinski. Students are chosen from area high schools and are given the opportunity for exposure to a series of global thinkers who can broaden student perspective on national and world events. Students can use such activities on a college application or resume for future endeavors.

For more information or questions on the series please go to the library's website at: www.bristol-library.org
