City Discusses Goals and Objectives for 2014 in Work Session

The Bristol Tennessee City Council met in a work session prior to the January 7, 2014 regularly scheduled meeting.

Council discussed various goals and objectives that will serve to set their vision for the city and guide them and staff in the decision-making process at all levels throughout next fiscal year. The goals outlined will set the stage for a diversified economy and a vibrant city overall. The goals and objectives of city council will guide the budget process which will begin in early January.

David Luther, Chairman of the Bristol Train Station Foundation presented council with a proposal in which the Train Station could realize additional revenue. Luther reiterated the Foundation's goal of financial stability, enhancement of the facility and maximization of public use.

Council also discussed creating a Finance Committee that would assist in developing a capitol plan and creation of long term financial goals, as well as review city debt and investments.

The next meeting of Bristol's City Council will be Tuesday, January 7, 2014 in Council Chambers located in the Slater Center 325 McDowell Street Bristol, Tennessee.
