Seniors In Action Offering University of Tennessee Football Games Tickets

Its football time in Tennessee! What better way to celebrate the fall season than seeing a Tennessee football game with friends? There's only one way— to be chauffeured to the game, park right beside the stadium, and participate in an arrival tailgate party. Well, Bristol's Parks and Recreation's Seniors in Action program has you covered! Anyone 50 years old or older may participate.

Six games are scheduled for seniors in the area, but seating is limited to only 24. You can choose to attend one game or all six. The cost is $53 per game, including transportation or you may choose the season pass that will include all games except the October 5th Georgia game which is already sold out. At each game there is exclusive parking available for the group right beside the stadium and there is always a free tailgate party for everyone upon arrival. How exciting is that?

Bring a jacket or light throw and bring a friend, it is the most fun you will have all fall long. Ladies bring your pom-poms and "scream for the team" the Tennessee Volunteers!
