The Mighty, Almost, Nearly Buntings Hot Dog Fest Set for Steele Creek Park

With Special Guest Brinley Addington in Concert

Tri-Cities native, Brinley Addington will join Chris Young on tour as his opening act this summer, but prior to that Brinley is appearing in Bristol's Steele Creek Park as the guest of the City of Bristol and radio station WXBQ. The concert is scheduled for Friday, June 8, 2012 beginning at 7:00 PM.

Born and raised in Kingsport, Tennessee, Brinley Addington's passion for country music began well before the small town singer can even remember. At age three, Brinley began climbing on top of his parent's coffee table pretending he was performing on the Grand Ole Opry. From there he went on to open for several major artists such as The Band Perry, James Otto, John Michael Montgomery and has performed in venues such as Nashville's Bluebird Café, Tootsie's Orchid Lounge and New York City's Tavern on the Green. Brinley released his first album in August 2011 and his first music video featuring his first single, "Hang on a Farm" which has received outstanding reviews from peers and music industry professionals alike.

Brinley just signed to open for Chris Young on his current tour and he has also been invited to join Blake Shelton and Friends, on Shelton's country music celebrity cruise this summer.

Darlene Cole, Venue Manager for the city has stated that Addington seems to be doing all the right things, choosing the right songs, and being in the right places to put himself on the fast track to country stardom.

The concert slated for Steele Creek Park will begin at 7:00 PM on Friday, June 8, 2012. There is no charge for the concert or for entry into Steele Creek Park. This concert has something old and something new in the offering. For the first 100 concert patrons there will be available the mighty, almost, nearly Buntings hot dog and a drink. Everyone who has been in Bristol for long has either had or heard of the famous Buntings Drug Store hot dogs. And for the new, one of country music's newest rising stars, Brinley Addington. Shuttle buses will be operating within the park.
