

Ever Wonder how to dispose of fluorescent tubes or the new CFL light bulbs?

There is a safe and easy way to do so. All the local Lowe's stores take both the CFL's and fluorescent tubes for disposal. All customers need to do is take the old bulbs to the "Customer Returns" counter at the front of the store and tell the Customer Service Representative that you would like to have the bulbs disposed of.

Home Depot is also offering the service, but they will only take the CFL bulbs. Both stores offer this service free of charge to its customers.

Large quantities of fluorescent tubes should be taken to Southeast Recycling, 108 Kwickway Lane, Gray, TN. This would be appropriate for the re-lamping of a building, etc. There is a charge for this service.
